

The following pages are emails between the women who were researching and sharing information on the Communist Chinese activities in Idaho. The only edits were to delete the phone numbers of non-public individuals and to change the orientation on some pages to portrait. A few links were added when I couldn't help myself. For some reason, the orientation was landscape so some of the text was cut off. Those emails were changed to be portrait so that all text could be read.

This morning I received a phone call from a friend in Roberts Idaho concerned over finding out that a local gas station owned by a foreigner would not let you fill a 5 gallon gas can. They said they sold gas for cars only.

I called the Governor's Office and asked about these foreigners moving in and buying up businesses here in Idaho and how this came about? I was told that this was a federal issue and to contact our congressmen about it. I was also told that Gov. Otter went to China looking to export Idaho's goods.

I contacted Rep. Mike Simpson's office to get more information about foreign investors buying up businesses Idaho. I was told that the Federal Government was over this and they decide who gets the visas to come to the United States. I told him that there are alot of serious concerns with foreigners moving into our country (health risks, security issues, changing the very landscape of our country) and that the people have a right to know about this. He said that the foreigners are allowed to own a business and that anyone selling property can sell to whoever they want too.

I called Sen. Mike Crapo's Office about the EB-5 Visas and was sent the following link, " EB-5 Immigrant Investor".

Note after reading the article that the investor has to provide at least 10 jobs to: U.S. workers, including green card workers, and others lawfully authorized to work in U.S.

THIS WILL BE THE END OF OUR COUNTRY FOR SURE. EVEN IDAHO IS MORE CONCERNED WITH "REVENUE" THAN IT'S PEOPLE. A FRENCH INVESTOR IS GIVING 2 BILLION FOR A NUCLEAR ENRICHMENT FACILITY TO BE BUILT IN IDAHO FALLS. ONE CAN ONLY GUESS WHO WILL GET THE JOBS THEY WILL CREATE. THAT THEY USED TO SELL THE IDEA???

Please read Vicky Davis's e-mail on her research on the EB-5 VISAS that I am resending out today as an alert, also look at the Idaho map. Vicky Davis is a real asset to Idaho and our country. Thanks Vicky!!!!

Idaho Gov. Otter's trip to China -- June, 2010

Vicky told me about this visit but I had to read it for myself.

In Otter's delegation were companies with the Idaho Regional Center seeking Chinese investors through the federal immigrant investor program (EB-5 visas) "the center offers them a green card to come to the U.S. if they invest $10 million and create 10 jobs."

Note: They must think the Chinese are stupid or is there something else going on here?

Do we want Communist Chinese starting businesses in Idaho?

After you are done reading the article scroll down and read our Idahoan's comments about the trip.

Subject: INS: The Asian INVASION of Idaho and the rest of America

The items in this post are out of Idaho but I can tell you that this is happening nationwide - as are all things now - nothing is isolated to ONE or two states anymore. Can we say Bush Sr's 'Thousand Points of Light'?

I spent quite some time on the phone last night with the lady from the Idaho Eagle Forum group. I had rec'd an email from someone that alerted me to this so I made contact and let me tell you - it blew my socks off as the conversation proceeded.

Remember when many of us were commenting and complaining years ago about how every corner gas station was taken over and run by Mid Easterners? Also, how so many motel chains were being managed by the same groups?

Now add the DEBT that the OCCUPATION FORCES have created with China holding most of the IOU's for that DEBT. I am reminded of that saying in the early 1940's "BEWARE OF THE YELLOW PERIL". Of course at that time they were talking about the Japanese but that saying never has left my mind and it is now coming to pass as I saw it years ago.

There are many GREAT researchers, investigators, and such that subscribe to WGEN. WGEN isn't just me - WGEN is the sum of those who participate, contribute, and dig out the information to share and increase the level of knowledge to all who receive a WGEN email. I am most thankful to be able to be in a position to distribute this information to aid in the battle we are in.

I am taking a large group of individual emails the Idaho Eagle Forum sent to me and putting them here for those who have the time to go thru and dissect the information and for the writers among you to compile columns from this information and let's do what we can to inform (we aren't going to stop it, IMHO) and at least slow it down.

Rob Sanchez - you are an expert in the field of Visa's and you may already know much of this but hopefully you can take this and follow up with articles on it so that the average reader will be able to make sense of it all.

We spend hours on the ILLEGALS coming from Mexico and other points South of here - we need to be watching the invasion about to take place from across the Pacific - thanks to traitors like the Gov. of Idaho and the Chambers of Commerce who are promoting this BIG TIME..... on tax funds they take from us to commit their treason.

I will separate each email with a line of @@@@

They will not be in any particular date order so you will have to read them and check the links as you go thru.

Gov. Otter's name struck me so I pulled this off the net - not sure if he fits the description or not but I found it amusing.

Otters are very active, chasing prey in the water or searching the beds of rivers, lakes or the seas. Most species live beside water, entering it mainly to hunt or travel, otherwise spending much of their time on land to avoid their fur becoming waterlogged. The sea otter does live in the sea for most of its life.

Otters are playful animals and appear to engage in various behaviors for sheer enjoyment. Different species vary in their social structure, with some being largely solitary, while others live in groups – in a few species these groups may be fairly large.

This is a BOMBSHELL, folks and there is no way to take cover - just to fire back.

Idaho Eagle Forum Message

Idaho is banking on foreigners to move here, own businesses, and bail-out our sagging economy. (mainly from China)

I was watching the news this morning and heard a guy with the Coeur d'Alene Chamber of Commerce say that all Idaho businesses have the right to go global. He said that they and Post Falls and other businesses up north were taking a trip to China to look for those investors. (EB-5 visas)

Do any of us really understand what can take place here in Idaho if this plan takes off? The Chinese would move anywhere in our state and own a business, bring their families with them, loose their citizenship in China, our schools would have to worry about the language barrier, buy up our real estate, have children that can be citizens in the U.S., and who knows what else ?

If they invest $1 million they can start a NEW BUSINESS here. If they invest $500,000 they can buy up any business in distress anywhere in Idaho. They could buy up all the businesses in your town that wanted to sell and get out. Because the owner has the right to sell to who ever they want, you can't do anything about it. GET THE PICTURE???

When you read the following article you will notice that this is all about IDAHO GETTING REVENUE and NOT ABOUT YOU, YOUR FREEDOM OR QUALITY OF LIVE.

It is time that you make your voice heard. Call your legislators at their home and tell them you want this stopped before it's too late to stop.

Local chambers to aid international business growth

Minnick to deliver keynote address to Aug. 26 conference

COEUR d'ALENE - This, says Todd Christensen, is not good: Only 2 percent of all small businesses actively pursue business growth through international trade.

"This is a staggering statistic," said the president and chief executive officer of the Coeur d'Alene Area Chamber of Commerce.

And it needs to change.

To help improve this statistic, the Coeur d'Alene Chamber of Commerce with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the Post Falls Chamber of Commerce are holding "North Idaho Growing in a Global Economy."

U.S. Rep. Walt Minnick will deliver the keynote address at an Aug. 26 conference on the expansion of commercial and export opportunities for Idaho companies.

In his remarks, the Congressman will address a number of issues critical to U.S. businesses including market access for U.S. goods, the President's National Export Initiative and pending trade agreements with Colombia, Panama, and Korea.

"This conference is being held in Coeur d'Alene to highlight the critical role that Idaho businesses play in the global marketplace," according to a press release.

It will focus on various sectors of the economy including agriculture, manufacturing and services.

Liz J. Reilly, director of TradeRoots for the US Chamber of Commerce will help outline the role North Idaho plays in international trade relations and the dangers of protectionism.

Amy Benson, director of the Boise Export Assistance Center, will offer tips on getting started and growing your businesses through international trade.

Renee Radcliff Sinclair, executive director for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce will present Minnick with the Chamber's Spirit of Enterprise Award.

Registration and check-in begins at 7:30 a.m. and the presentations wrap up at around 10 a.m.

The cost of the event, including a light breakfast, is $20 per person ($30 for non-chamber members and an extra $10 at the door registration). To register and for more information visit www.CdAChamber.com or call Brenda at 415-0110.

Subject: EB-5 Visas --- The U.S. FLOODGATES opened for Chinese citizenship

Date: August 21, 2010 at 12:24:37 PM MST

To: <Undisclosed-Recipient:;>

In trying to understand what is happening in Idaho with the Chinese coming to buy or invest in businesses and live here (EB-5 visas, U.S. Citizenship) and our states involvement in this, Idaho Eagle Forum has come to realize that this is a complete sell-out of our Country. You need to see the national involvement and plans in the making. Shall we call this the PYRAMID SCHEME ? It appears to be another PONZI SCHEME and America will be the loser this time.

In this PYRAMID SCHEME the main players are:

- 1) the State Regional Centers
- 2) Immigration attorneys
- 3) people connected to universities
- 4) local employers
- 5) politicians campaign contributions from grateful players in the game

In Idaho our Gov. Otter,(Otter's goal of 120 investors) Idaho Department of Commerce, local chambers of commerce, and our 2 Idaho State Regional Centers (one in Boise, the other in McCall) are networking to bring in foreign investors from China to LIVE here.

For Idaho, Rick Ritter is the Regional Director at the EB-5 center here in Boise. He manages the FUND with the EB-5 investor's money.(EB-5 visa immigrant investor money, $1 million for each investor or $500.000 for each investor) He decides who gets the money to create 10 jobs.

I have a few quotes from the article below:

" The revamped program operates more like a mutual fund and leaves managing the work to others"

"This is only going to get bigger" said Morrie Berez, chief of the EB-5 program at the USCIS" (U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, under the U.S. Department of Homeland Security)

NOTE: The USCIS only gives out 10,000 EB-5 visas yearly and out of them only 3,000 can be $500.000 investors. (sounds like they want them to cough up more money if they really want to come here bad enough) WHAT KIND OF BACKGROUND CHECKS DO YOU THINK THEY CAN DO ON THE CHINESE?

--Foreigners invest greenbacks for green cards.

<http://www.eb5-investor-visa.com/foreigners-invest-greenbacks-for-green-cards.html>

Midwest-US-China --Mr. Brian Su

IDAHO ----- This is only one of Idaho's connections to China to bring in Idaho EB-5 foreign investors ----- (Also remember Raymond Ku owns Westlink and Gov. Otter? Ku networks with the Idaho State Regional Center. Ku has connections with more the 50 immigrant investor consulting firms throughout China. AND YOU KNOW HE CAN DELIVER!!!!)

Note: After looking at this link below, scroll down and look at the "EB-5 Project Overview". A QUOTE---"The Regional Center Investment Program does not require that the foreign investor's enterprise itself directly employ 10 U.S. workers. Instead it is enough if 10 or more jobs will be created directly or indirectly as a result of the investment."

*???? THAN WHY DON'T THE CHINESE JUST STAY IN CHINA AND INVEST FROM THERE? IT IS BECAUSE THIS IS THEIR WAY INTO THIS COUNTRY AND THEY CAN BECOME U.S. CITIZENS IN 5 YEARS. HELLO??? THIS IS COMMUNIST CHINA FOLKS!!!! THE CHINESE ARE JUMPING ON THIS ONE FAST!!!

<http://www.midwestusachina.com/eb5.htm>

Meet Mr Brian Su -- Networks with the 2 Idaho Regional Centers -----(YOU KNOW THAT HE IS GOING TO DELIVER. HE HAS GOT CONNECTIONS!!!!)

I was talking to a lady in California the other day and she said the REAL ESTATE SALESMEN where is lives down south are taking bus loads of Chinese around showing them property for sale. She also said that the Chinese businesses there only hire their own.

ANY country can apply for an EB-5 Visa

Illegal immigration from China increases 10 fold

Norah Petersen

News of China's alarming military buildup has made headlines this week. But, there is yet another national security threat involving China that is closer to home. Earlier this year, The New York Times reported:

"The number of Chinese immigrants arrested while illegally crossing the border into Arizona through the busiest smuggling corridor in the United States increased tenfold in the last fiscal year, according to the United States Border Patrol in Tucson.

"In fiscal 2009, 332 Chinese immigrants were caught in the Border Patrol's Tucson sector, up from 30 the previous year, Border Patrol figures showed. And in what could be a sign of a record-breaking pace for this year, agents in the Border Patrol's Tucson sector arrested 281 Chinese immigrants from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, the first quarter of the current fiscal year.

Predictably, the article went on to insist that most of these illegal immigrants from China were just seeking a better life. Maybe, and maybe not. We have certainly heard this argument before. However, the sheriff of Zapata County in Texas, Sigifredo Gonzalez Jr., warned in 2009:

"We are seeing more and more persons coming across our southwestern border than ever before. From what we are seeing, we feel that most of these persons are not coming into the country to look for legitimate employment."

The appalling lack of immigration enforcement at our southwest border is inviting potentially dangerous people from all parts of the world. How much longer can we afford to permit this national security disaster?

Subject: An Open Letter to Idaho's Gov. Otter

Date: August 21, 2010 at 9:02:53 PM MST

---An Open Letter--

8-8-10

Dear Governor Otter,

The Idaho Eagle Forum group has just become aware of the EB-5 visa program and your trips to COMMUNIST China to look for "partners" for the purposes of trade. We are also aware that your PR team promotes your trips as looking for buyers for goods produced in Idaho. Over the past years however, the only exports of significance from Idaho have been production and jobs. In fact, just recently, Micron signed a co-production agreement with a company in Taiwan. But then I don't need to tell you that, do I?

Over the past decade, there has been one congressional hearing after another on COMMUNIST Chinese mercantilism. They are not allies or friends. They have sent their people over here for the purposes of industrial espionage. The Pentagon makes clear that the COMMUNIST Chinese are a threat to America. And yet, you and your entourage actively seek connections with them.

I'm also sure that you are aware that the only people who make money in a COMMUNIST country – are the COMMUNISTS themselves – not the peasants they exploit. One has to question the judgment of a Governor who actively and enthusiastically participates in a system of importing rich COMMUNISTS into poor rural areas. It appears to the members of Idaho Eagle Forum that there is a darker, more sinister purpose to this foreign direct investment scam tied to the purchase of American citizenship via the EB-5 visa.

Since 1990 when the decision was made by the G7 pursue "global governance", the American people have been sold out, lied to, stolen from and betrayed in every possible way by politicians and connected insiders. We had hoped that as Governor, you had the "right stuff" to stand for Idahoans and for America. Sadly, it appears we were mistaken.

Idaho Eagle Forum, State President

Oh my gosh - Otter and The Bat Girl, together. How did that happen? Just a few weeks ago Otter was beaming over all the employers leaving The Bat Girls cave (Washington State) and moving to Idaho.

This "work together as a region" made me think to something my mother said to me many years ago when I was wanting to do some big project - bigger than any I had done yet. For sake of the mental picture I like to paint for readers let's say it was cook an entire meal for company. Before you can cook an entire meal you have to learn how to plan the menu, purchase the ingredients, how to COOK the food, timing so it all comes out about the same time, set the table, and serve. The way you learn those things is to take ONE of the things at a time and learn that one thing. Then learn the next. Soon you will have conquered all the different steps and it will show by how well you do each of the individual things.

Now, you have Otter - with The Bat Girl at his side - wanting to unite the West when they have proven beyond any doubt that they are incapable of preparing one individual item in their own state - other than a BUDGET SHORTFALL and HIGH TAXES. Is THAT the kind of UNITING they plan for the West? Arnold already knows that one as do the other Western Governors.

I would like to know just WHAT is it that Otter brings to the table that makes him qualified to lead even one state and do it WELL. These Governors Associations are nothing more than more Community Organizers - created to make sure that large areas follow the OWO agenda. Each family (City, County, State, Nation) has an 'order', much like how God created the family unit with the Father to lead or head that family. I don't recall reading where God instructed these Family heads to join with another family head and form an association to raise and watch over the family. They have a primary duty - to do the job they were elected to do and I doubt that any voter who cast a vote for the governor of their state did so with the thought that the elected person should join with another to institute rules and regulations to make them all like a cookie cutter created state. Each state has a unique personality - it should remain so. This entire bunch of associations (City, County, State, not to mention the many County officials associations) is meant to make sure similar goals are instituted across America - all done so as to FIT the OWO agenda - Agenda 21 - etc. It also is just one more avenue that these bureaucrats take advantage of to TRAVEL at our expense to party together under the guise of engaging in Official business. Nope, These people need to stay home and tend to the OFFICIAL business of the people they were elected to serve. Once they have accomplished the task of providing the services their constituents want and the money to pay for them out of that single community - not dependent upon the neighboring people to pay the bill - then they can take a vacation on their own dollar and travel.

When you and I have a family to raise we don't travel to the state capitol or to WDC to beg for $$$ to support and raise the kids we brought forth. We have to figure out how to provide the necessities of life on what we have or make. It is OUR responsibility to care for the children we bring forth - not the next door folks or those who live in another state. The same rule applies to the individual governing bodies. Why should the folks in Florida have to provide money to prop up the folks in Idaho? When a politician BRAGS about bringing home the bacon to their state it is the same as the old stagecoach robbers who also Brought Home the Bacon - they TOOK it from others - forcing those folks to either do without or go TAKE from another party. Don't forget, The Feds have NO money to hand to anyone - that money they hand out is stolen money - stolen from the rightful owners - you and I. So, when you comment that the money is a Federal Grant or such you are openly saying you are participating in STOLEN FUNDS and enjoying it. Isn't that AIDING AND ABETTING?

Will this uniting of Otters include all that COMMIE CHINESE investment via the EB-5 programs?

DENVER -- Idaho Gov. C. L. "Butch" Otter, recently elected chairman of the Western Governors' Association, said he will be working to "unite the West" as governors tackle traditional and new issues over the next year.

"Western states often face similar challenges, so it is invaluable when we can work together as a region to find common solutions," Otter said.

Otter said WGA will continue to address traditional issues, such as energy, transmission, water management, forest health and wildlife management. He will also put a spotlight on some new issues, such as increasing nuclear energy production and expanding educational and job opportunities for veterans.

"My goal in focusing on some of these new issues is to position the West for balanced and sustainable growth that will also result in the creation of new jobs that lead to careers," Otter said.

Gov. Christine Gregoire (Wash.) was elected vice chair of the bipartisan organization at WGA's Annual Meeting held earlier this summer.

"Another part of our strategic plan is to engage very early on all of the new governors who will be coming into office and ensure their states' continued involvement in helping solve our region's long-term challenges," Otter said.

Idaho Eagle Forum's Concern for America

Last night while on the internet doing research I came across this website "Washington China Review".

The following article "The Chinese Economy on a Rotten Foundation" ( parts 1, 2 and 3) is about China's terrible economic state. It also gives a very clear picture as to who the wealthy chinese ( COMMUNIST) are and the corruption going on over there in their country.

These are the people that have money and are coming to the U.S. as investors, EB-5 visas and other visas. This should cause great concern to all Americans.

NOTE: The article was written by a professor of economics from a University in Taiwan -- 2003

The Communist Chinese Government are down right evil people and it made me sick when I read this article knowing that our Idaho Gov. Otter could wine and dine with them, that the American people would want to do business with them, that most of America lost their jobs to them, and that our government would borrow money from them and put us deep in debt for generations to come.

The following open letter was written to the United States Congress.( 2007) This was a plea from a helpless Chinese man asking their help for his countrymen. You get to read just how corrupt his government is. THIS SHOULD MAKE EVERYONE FURIOUS!!! MOST FAVORED NATION ???

PASS THIS E-MAIL ON ACROSS AMERICA! IT IS TIME AMERICANS TAKE A STAND AGAINST COMMUNISM! IT IS HERE FOLKS ON OUR SHORE TOO!

Washington tries to lure China investors

By Kristi Heim

Seattle Times business reporter

Washington state is making a major push to attract Chinese investment, a sign of how the world economy has shifted from a decade ago, when the state's trade missions focused mainly on opening the door for local companies to do business in China.

Gov. Chris Gregoire is heading to China in two weeks, bringing agriculture, education and tourism officials, representatives from two dozen companies and a 240-page guide in Chinese and English about how to do business in Washington.

China has overtaken Japan as the world's second-largest economy. It has more than $2 trillion in foreign reserves and, as Japan did in the 1980s, China is shopping for investment opportunities abroad. Seattle companies and technologies, including medical devices and clean energy, are among its targets.

At the same time, economic rifts between the U.S. and China seem poised to ignite a trade war. The U.S. trade deficit rose to $50 billion in June, and some in Congress are threatening to retaliate against China for manipulating its currency to keep its manufactured goods cheap and its exports growing.

Attracting Chinese direct investment into Washington state can boost efforts to rebalance trade and defuse some of those tensions, supporters say. But that comes with its own set of cultural and political challenges.

For one thing, most Chinese companies big enough to pursue the strategy to go abroad are partly or fully owned by the government, said Charles Duan, a Shanghai attorney who earned a law degree from the University of Washington and opened the first private law firm in China. "They basically can get unlimited support from the banks," which are government-owned, he said.

While Chinese investments overseas have increased dramatically in the past three years, he said, here in the U.S. most of those deals have been limited to real estate or immigration.

That's because many Americans and Europeans feel uneasy about China's state-owned companies making major investments or acquiring companies, Duan said.

In 2005, Congress rejected an attempt by China National Offshore Oil Corporation (CNOOC) to buy Unocal in California after opponents raised national security concerns. The bitterness of that rejection lingers among Chinese investors. Gregoire wants to show that Washington state is more welcoming. During her trip to Shanghai and Beijing, she's holding meetings with Chinese investors with the goal of bringing more of them here. She said she'll talk about Washington's long history of positive relations with China, and how small companies that started here with good ideas have gone on to become global leaders.

Business trips

In June, the state's Commerce Department and the Washington State China Relations Council conducted a four-hour seminar in Mandarin Chinese on investment opportunities for a delegation of 200 Chinese business and government leaders stopping in Seattle on their way home from a G-20 business summit in Toronto.

That followed a visit by a Shanghai real-estate mogul, Jiang Zhaobai, who is looking for U.S. technology companies to invest in and made a pitch for a center he built in Shanghai with office space and services for small and medium-sized American companies. Jiang said he hopes to invest as much as $500 million in companies with promising technology and help them expand their business to China.

Jiang opened an office in Seattle with his partners, Joseph Massey and Lee Sands, formerly chief trade negotiators with China for the U.S. Trade Representative.

Over the next several weeks, they met with local companies to discuss possible investments. The exchanges led to some interesting lessons. Local companies learned that while a device to dissolve blood clots could find strong demand in China, software to record and distribute government meetings would not.

"Everything they had lined up I thought was a great way to take a product to China," said Adam Rivas, chief executive of AV Capture All, an Olympia software company. After discussions with potential investors he realized that wasn't likely. "Unfortunately for us about the last country in the world thinking about open government would be China," he said.

Three companies from the Seattle area, including EKOS and Iverson Genetics, traveled to Shanghai to talk further with Jiang and other potential Chinese investors.

Bothell-based EKOS, which developed a device to dissolve blood clots by integrating a catheter with an ultrasound transmitter, is considering a partnership with Jiang's company, the Pengxin Group.

EKOS had no immediate plans for Asia and wasn't looking for investors, but money from China might "allow us to leapfrog or advance some of our clinical studies programs" while offering expertise in the China market, said Doug Hansmann, EKOS co-founder and chief operating officer.

Safeguarding the intellectual property is a top concern, he said, which is one reason why EKOS wanted production to stay in Bothell. "They seem pretty clear they were not seeking to bring manufacturing into China," Hansmann said. " ... What they did want was to introduce technology into China."

Massey and Sands argue that increasing both U.S. exports and direct foreign investment from China are the best solutions for reducing the trade deficit.

Bill Stafford, president of the Trade Development Alliance of Greater Seattle, said more investment by China will only be effective against the trade deficit if jobs and manufacturing stay here. If companies invest in Washington for a name brand but move most of their operations overseas, that's not the same thing.

Philips and Siemens bought companies here and expanded them, showing cases where foreign investment can be positive and create jobs, he said.

Chinese companies don't have such a good track record of employing locals where they've invested around the world, Stafford said, because most of the money has gone to buy resources or brands.

Cultural challenges

Randy Aliment, a partner at the law firm Williams Kastner who is participating in the governor's trip, said other companies such as Greater China Industries, a Bellevue company started by China native Ben Zhang, have paved the way here.

The main challenges for newcomers are cultural.

"Some of the laws are very different here, such as labor laws and employment laws," Aliment said. "Things you and I take for granted are very novel to them. But that's not necessarily different for a Chinese company than for any foreign business person."

In the next few years, as China allows its currency to be traded more freely, "Chinese companies will go to various markets to establish their local presence big time," Duan said.

As places like Washington state consider more direct investment by China and other moves to shore up the economy, people should not base decisions on ideology, Duan said. "Base it on the real economy and what is good for people's lives."

Subject: Fw: NEWS RELEASE: Lawmakers; Allred Is Wrong to Take Credit for Work He Didn't Do

To my email list:

I just received this email that has the text of a press release on what appears to be official stationery for the leadership of the Idaho State Legislature. The content of the press release is clearly political - not state business. Is that legal? Does the State of Idaho allow legislators to use taxpayer purchased supplies for political purpose? If it's not illegal, it's certain unethical.

As to the content of the message, it appears to be a deliberate distortion of what was said. Allred said that he rallied citizens through his Common Interest organization. That's a far cry from taking credit for legislation which he obviously couldn't do as a private citizen.

Here is equal time on the issue - press release by the Allred campaign:

http://www.allredforidaho.com/newsroom/NewsItem/10-09-02/Allred\_Proud\_of\_property\_tax\_relief.aspx

Now, for the real reason I am responding to this email, I'm wondering why the Idaho Republican Majority is bothering with such a petty issue when Governor Butch Otter is selling Idaho to the COMMUNIST Chinese via the EB-5 visa program and foreign direct investment:

From a 2009 article following the approval for an EB-5 Regional Center in Idaho:

<http://e5visa.com/news/eb-5-center-ok'd-company-hopes-to-attract-50m-in-foreign-funds>

"Gov. C.L. "Butch" Otter has highlighted the EB-5 program as a "key element" of his effort to attract new foreign investment to Idaho as part of Project 60, his plan to grow the state's annual gross domestic product to $60 billion from $52 billion.

"The value of U.S. residency, and being put on the fast track to citizenship, is an incredible tool to help us attract foreign investment in our Idaho businesses," he said through a spokesman in response to the center's creation. "We don't want to miss this opportunity to infuse our economy with new investment that will stimulate job creation."

And if you want to know more about Butch Otter and the EB-5 visa program, you can read about it here. Butch still thinks he works for J.R. He certainly is NOT working for the citizens of Idaho:

http://www.channelingreality.com/Digital\_Treason/trojan\_triangle\_The\_CORE.htm

And how about the PNWER - "partnership" with the provinces of a foreign nation? The PNWER is the political leadership for breaking our nation for the purpose of creating a one-world system by reorganizing our political structures in to unelected, unrepresentative regional soviets (councils).

And of course, it's paid for with corporate money - dirty money.

<http://www.pnwer.org/AboutUs/Leadership/PNWERLeadership/tabid/141/Default.aspx>

Does any of this mean that I support Keith Allred? Absolutely not.

http://www.channelingreality.com/keith\_all\_red.htm

I don't see either side - Republican or Democrat representing the interests of the American people. Our political system, our institutions - all of it, intellectually and morally corrupt. And this episode is case in point.

What we need are some real Americans to run for public office - and by real Americans, I mean people who are loyal to America and the Constitution and who will put America and the American people first. I don't think we have anybody in the political arena now that hasn't sold out one way or another.

Lawmakers; Allred Is Wrong to Take Credit for Work He Didn't Do

<!--[if !supportEmptyParas]--> <!--[endif]-->

Boise, Idaho -- September 2, 2010 - After hearing him tout his role in the expansion of the homeowner's tax exemption in the first Gubernatorial debate and again last week in a Northern Idaho Political blog, lawmakers are now calling out Governor Butch Otter's opponent.

Allred claimed that for years, nothing could get done regarding expanding the homeowners exemption. He went on to say, "when I brought everyday citizens in to the mix, we got a different outcome," said Allred.

<!--[if !supportEmptyParas]--> <!--[endif]-->

On his own website he states, "Working with The Common Interest, Keith cut property taxes on Idaho homeowners and protected private property rights."

"Keith taking credit for passing the Homeowner's Exemption in 2006 is like Al Gore taking credit for inventing the Internet,” said Representative Dennis Lake (R-Blackfoot), Chair, Idaho House Revenue & Tax Committee. “It’s just nonsense.”

<!--[if !supportEmptyParas]--> <!--[endif]-->

How can any lobbyist take credit for cutting property taxes on Idaho homeowners and protecting property rights,” asks Senator Bob Geddes (R-Soda Springs), President Pro-Tempore of the Idaho Senate? “I am very sure the 2006 tax reduction Mr. Allred speaks of was a legislative action that Governor Otter signed into law. Special interest lobbying may work to promote change, but they (Keith) did not do it and it is disingenuous for him to take total credit for that happening.”

Lawmakers say that House Bill 421 that expands the homeowner’s exemption came about because of the hard work of the interim committee on property taxes and the 12 public meetings held around the state.

In fact, there isn’t even any record of Allred speaking during any public hearings, committee meetings, or open debate.

“He was involved on a very minimal basis,” said House Speaker Lawrence Denny (R-Midvale). “There is absolutely no way he can carry the banner on this one and take credit.”

Chinese company officials meet with leaders of Idaho, energy firms.

Submitted by Rocky Barker on Thu, 09/02/2010 - 12:27pm.

Officials of the China National Machinery Industry Corp. met this week with Idaho state, utility and industry officials to show off their ability to design, build and maintain everything from power plants to high transmission lines.

The Chinese-government owned company, called Sinomach for short, is itself a sign of the growing economic and industrial strength China now projects worldwide. For Sinomach the American West provides many of the same opportunities it already has tapped in places like Africa, India, Pakistan, Indonesia and even Iran.

Sinomach, is China's third largest contractor with more than $14 billion in sales last year. Jeff Don, President of C3 of Eagle arranged the delegation's visit.

They talked to Idaho Power Co. and Rocky Mountain Power and the Mountain States Transmission Project about building the major transmission lines the two utilities have planned. They also talked with several other Idaho energy and manufacturing companies about projects ranging from coal-gasification, nuclear power to turning biogas into power.

Zhang Chun, director general of the company told state officials the United States represents a big market for Sinomach and that he was happy to get a chance to meet with the companies, arranged in part by Paul Kjellander, director of the Idaho Office of Energy Resources.

The visit underscores the changing face of energy development in Idaho, as well as the interest Chinese companies have in both business and investment here. China's ability and interest to project itself economically worldwide is remarkable similar to the United States at the turn of the 19th Century.

"Your expertise, our expertise and your resources and our resources match up," said Idaho Lieutenant Gov. Brad Little.

interesting tag line as it just so happens, as coincidence of course, that Idaho Officials, if that's what we call them, are seeking campaign contributions from wealthy foreigners in exchange for citizenship. Yes at least the Governor has expanded his political boundaries to include China. I wonder what kind of Gerrymander does that look like?

What you say isn't exactly true. Under the Federal program, foreigners who invest a certain amount of money (right now, it is $500,000 I think) in enterprises in the U.S. that will create jobs can apply for green cards for him/herself and immediate family. You cannot get a green card (precursor to applying for citizenship) under the program for a campaign contribution to anyone. It must be a business investment of your own money.

Gao Zhisheng's Open Letter to the United States Congress

(9/28/2007)

By Gao Zhisheng

Dear ladies and gentlemen in the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives:

Most respectful greetings from Gao Zhisheng! Allow me to express my sincere gratitude for your kind consideration and support in the past year to me and to the values I am pursuing.

In the past two months, I have twice read the Debates in the Federal Convention of 1787 by James Madison. Freedom, democracy, and rule by law and constitution are the values China has longed for but has not been able to enjoy.

There is a saying in China, "A bite when hungry is better appreciated than a feast when full." Likewise, your persistence is especially precious given the almost total silence, or even subservience, of the mainstream international world in the past few years in the face of the tyranny of the Chinese communist regime, a parvenu government that stops at no evil.

Your persistence is a symbol that tells the world that the shining side of humanity continues to exist. The persistence you and many others demonstrate in refusing to collaborate with this fascist government is a strong wall that the overbearing communist regime can not surmount. This persistence is a buoy that keeps the oppressed from being completely drowned by darkness, and it is the source of strength for the downtrodden Chinese people who are struggling to resist the atrocities and defend human rights. It is the manna that gives us hope to persevere in our peaceful protest.

You and other people of conscience are an important force that makes it possible for the Chinese people to peacefully abandon the tyranny and to establish a free, democratic, and civilized new China.

I am not a politician. I promise that you won't see any rhetoric, distortion, or pretence in this letter. Experience teaches us that though the world can be very critical, people often favor counterfeit virtues. This rule is brought to extremes in my country by those who vilify the good and glorify evil. In the past two years, the Chinese communist regime has demonstrated every vile act one can and cannot imagine during its efforts to silence me.

As if to prove its determination to destroy human feelings and conscience at all cost, the regime ordered at least four secret police to maintain continuous intimate man-to-man surveillance on my less-than-3-year-old son. My 12-year-old daughter was "privileged" to an even higher level of treatment with six to ten male and female secret police at her heels day and night, month after month, even when she was in the classroom. All my family members have been followed around by secret police and have been illegally detained at will many times.

During this period, my wife and children suffered repeated brutal assaults. The regime is determined to stop at nothing to persecute me, and made special efforts to reveal its true color of "what's there to be afraid of, being already so notorious," only because I stick to my conscience and responsibility as a human being. Behavior that is commonly considered to be too degrading for human beings is enforced in my country as [mere] political tasks.

Today, as we approach the Beijing Olympic Games, I ask you to pay attention to the ongoing human rights disaster in China, and wish you to forward my appeal to the whole world. I ask you to seriously consider the outlook of morality, justice, and humanity for today's mankind, as well as to what extent such values are undermined in China.

More and more Chinese people are speaking out against the coming Olympic Games in China, which they often refer to as "the bloody Olympics" and "the handcuff Olympics." They raised the protest, "We want human rights, not the Olympics." Recently Mr. Jacques Rogge, president of the Olympic Committee, expressed to the Chinese media his determination not to be moved by these "desperate and indignant" voices. Meanwhile, Mr. Rogge asked people not to politicize the Olympic Games.

Though I have very positive feelings about the spirit embodied in the Olympic Games, I am not willing to rebuke Mr. Rogge for his dereliction of duty to defend the ethical values of the Olympics. But it is necessary to remind Mr. Rogge that the Chinese communist regime treated the application and hosting of the Olympic Games exactly as an important political task. Everything related to the Olympics is regarded as a political issue. Liu Qi, China's key person in charge of these Olympics, claimed himself that it is an "overriding political task" to ensure that every need of the Olympic Games is met. This is a simple and commonly recognized fact in China.

What the Chinese authorities failed to predict is how wildly the corrupt officials are taking advantage of this "overriding political task." Under the name of securing the success of the Olympic Games, all kinds of evils have been committed in broad daylight without any obstruction, including forced eviction, illegal arrests and persecution of people who petition to the authorities, and suppression of religious people.

It is plain as day to all Chinese people that, with successes in hosting the Olympic Games, the communist regime is trying to achieve two goals. First, it tries to prove to the Chinese people that the world is still acknowledging the Party as a legal government despite all the suppressive and bloody tyranny and all the horrible crimes against humanity the Party has committed during the past decades at the cost of at least 80 million Chinese lives. Second, it wants to prove to the world that the Party is still fully competent in reigning over China and still enjoys the people's full support.

As more Chinese people are waking up and rising up to demand the end of tyranny, the call for human rights is becoming louder and louder. Under such circumstances, the Chinese communist regime has developed a twisted but fragile mentality and a freakish obsession for maintaining stability and ensuring the Olympic Games at all costs.

A recent incident in Beijing fully reflects the regime's fear of the people. An old man persevered, until his last breath, in petitioning against the forced eviction that robbed him of his home, and died for this cause. At his funeral, Beijing police sent hundreds of policemen and unidentified personnel in 59 police vehicles (mostly vans) to surround the old man's residence to prevent people from attending the unyielding old man's funeral (that was being held there).

Such shameful crimes against people of conscience have been going on for decades. A Heilongjiang farmer, Yang Chunlin, was robbed of his land. He was arrested for "instigating others to overthrow the state government" after he cried out, "We want human rights, not the Olympic Games." In recent years, the illegal arrests of innocent people have gone beyond all limits.

Dear friends, as a Chinese person, I have a profound love for my homeland and our kind-natured and calamitous people. I also long to see the day when the Olympic Games are held in China. But when I look at the social environment of China, and how the Olympic Games will be exploited here, my conscience and sense of justice make my heart ache. As you know, today in China those who link the Olympics with human rights are immediately hunted down by the communist regime and its gang as "the enemies of the state," "the sinners of the people," and "the destroyers of social harmony."

We don't support, nor pretend to support Olympic Games that are used as a political tool. Nor can we support or pretend to support Olympic Games that have no consideration for human conscience, justice, or morality. In a world where the mainstream political forces value profit above everything else, where morality is sneered at, we tried in vain to urge the Olympic Games [the International Olympic Committee] to perform its duties.

But still, I choose to express myself in a way that has almost led to the annihilation of my whole family. I choose to present to the international community what's happening in China, the vivid scenes going in parallel with the preparation for the Olympic Games that are totally against the Olympic spirit, though at this moment people are busy congratulating themselves on what they have gained in the coming Olympic Games. I choose to do so despite the danger I may bring to myself because I consider it my obligation as a human being and as a Chinese person.

The Chinese Communist Party is a criminal group that operates under the protection of state powers. It is essential to realize its criminal nature so that we can come to the objective conclusions and in turn make the right decisions. I know clearly that due to their greed for profit, not many people would publicly acknowledge this observation, while too many people will just pretend they don't believe it.

It is widely agreed that for any legal government, its nature and basic moral standard must be to protect the values embodied in the constitutional law. What we've seen in China is just the opposite. This regime has become the obstacle for people to defend their basic rights, and has always gone all out to trample on China's constitution. People's constitutional rights have become an eternal snag. As a single exception, the only law that the communist regime treats with any seriousness is "the constitutional law ensures the permanent reign of the Chinese Communist Party in China."

I. The Ongoing Bloody Religious Persecution

The virtues taught by true beliefs, when manifested in society, mean only disaster to the evil. Though the freedom of belief is dictated by China's constitutional law, the communist regime has never stopped fighting people's right to choose their own beliefs, a right that is justified by human nature. On the other hand, without a court that can enforce the constitutional law, the law has no effective bonds. Even so, the communist regime takes great pains to make sure the constitutional law is completely suffocated with numerous orders and regulations (for example, the Annual Regulation on Religious Affairs issued by the State Council of China).

The bloody persecution of Falun Gong, starting in 1999, has surpassed all evils ever known to mankind. In the past eight years, over 3,000 Falun Gong practitioners have been confirmed killed, and countless others injured. Hundreds of thousands of practitioners have been sent to labor camps. Millions were illegally detained in the countless brainwashing camps established in every corner in China by the notorious 610 Office, an agency founded to lead the persecution of Falun Gong. Such brainwashing camps require even simpler procedures for admittance than the labor camp system, while the methods used to "educate" the practitioners are shockingly cruel.

Tens of millions have been persecuted in various ways. A large number of children have been expelled from school only because their parents practice Falun Gong. Some of the children were left unattended or even homeless after their parents were arrested. (Since last August my daughter met many such children who lingered at the gate of her school. The children, though homeless, risked their lives to come up to my daughter to express their condolence and support. When my daughter came back to relay the message, we were stabbed to the heart.)

The eight-year-long suppression of Falun Gong is so far the most long-lasting and the most serious human-rights disaster in China and in the world. This is why I am emphasizing it early in this letter. As a proof of this persecution, I'd like to recommend the investigative report I composed after doing an investigation myself. The report records the legally acceptable evidence that I collected as an attorney (See: <http://en.epochtimes.com/news/5-12-16/35876.html>).

One of the cases in the report involves 28-year-old Liu Boyang, who held a bachelor's degree in medicine, and his mother, who were both Falun Gong practitioners. The mother and son were tortured to death in the same building, within less than 10 days of their arrest. The last several nights before their deaths, the two could hear each other's tragic cries during the torture. The Chinese police serving the communist regime committed horrible crimes to the mother and son, setting a record of shame that blemishes human dignity in history. By the time I was writing my third open letter to the Chinese leaders, the corpses of the mother and son were still held by the 610 Office that had killed them. Some other victims are still alive to testify about the persecution.

So today, I would take the liberty to ask you, and to ask all of mankind, the following questions:

1. Are the eight-year-long persecution of Falun Gong and the crimes against humanity committed by the Chinese Communist Party only a problem for the victims? Or are they problems for all of mankind?
2. Are the CCP's genocide and their crimes against humanity a threat only to the victims, or are they a threat to the moral values of all of human society?
3. Is mankind capable of dealing with such genocide and crimes against humanity committed under the protection of state power? Here three sub-questions may be asked:

A. Does today's society have the courage and conscience to stand up against the long-standing and openly committed genocide?

B. If yes, do we have the capability to stop it?

C. Judging by the definition of crimes against humanity and genocide stipulated in international laws, a large number of CCP officials' conduct meets all the criteria for both crimes, including Jiang Zemin, Luo Gan, Zhou Yongkang and Liu Jing. As for evidence, it is nothing but ample. So after all, it's a question of whether mainstream international society has the sense of responsibility and courage to honestly face this evidence. The evidence includes:

1. For each of the over 3,000 confirmed cases of Falun Gong practitioners who were persecuted to death (the number is still growing thanks to our indifference), we have:

- a. their full name, date of birth, ID, and addresses
- b. detailed accounts of how they were tortured to death
- c. documents to prove their deaths
- d. their corpses, ashes, and tombs as material evidence
- e. testimony from their living families or friends
- f. evidence for their arrests in most cases
- g. for those whose organs were removed, the stitching on the bodies and the telephone conversation record with involved hospitals, and evidence provided by the transplant doctors involved
- h. a large number of photos of the dead bodies
- i. The people responsible for the killing are still alive and can be summoned and investigated by a special tribunal.

D. Many Falun Gong practitioners were never heard from after their arrest. Their families can testify. E. Over 100,000 survivors who can testify about the tortures they suffered, such as electric shock on private parts, tortured with the "tiger bench," and pricked by sharp bamboo sticks.

F. Tens of thousands of surviving Falun Gong practitioners who had been detained in labor camps G. Those who are still jailed in labor camps H. Millions who used to be detained in the brainwashing camps

I. Those who are still detained in the brainwashing camps J. A large but unidentified number of children who were expelled from school and left homeless K. Tens of millions who lost their jobs and financial sources, who were denied freedom and the right to go abroad

L. People of conscience within the CCP system who can serve as witnesses

4. The issue all of us have to face is whether to pursue punishment [of the criminals]. Is China an exception when it comes to Public International Law for its crimes against humanity and genocide? We should not ignore difficulties to start this process due to the fact that the CCP has seized state power to give shelter to the criminals. However, it is feasible, possible, and necessary from the perspective of International Law to launch criminal procedures, including issuing arrest warrants, to bring the criminals to justice.

A significant part of this letter will be dedicated to the Falun Gong issue, as the persecution of Falun Gong is the worst disaster to humanity in this era. It does not mean, however, that the rights of other religious groups in China are not violated. The CCP's continuous suppression of Christian family churches is comparable to the shocking persecution of Falun Gong. Except for large cities such as Beijing and Shanghai, where people strongly oppose the persecution and force the dictators to become somewhat restrained, the persecution in townships and villages toward family church members is no different from the disaster suffered by Falun Gong practitioners.

In my hometown, a small county, the number of arrested, detained, and robbed family church members each year is far beyond those persecuted Falun Gong practitioners [in the county], and this illegal persecution has been going on for a long time. Based on my investigation on the persecution toward family church members in the Xinjiang Uighur Autonomous Region, the CCP has trained a dedicated group of police to focus on harassing, persecuting, and suppressing family church members, year-in and year-out. Just recently Mr. Zhou Tong and others in Xinjiang were illegally detained. The CCP's persecution of Christians is an open secret.

In recent years, the CCP has also escalated the level of brutality and cruelty of its persecution toward Tibetan Buddhists.

II. The Brutal Suppression of People's Freedom and Rights

Freedom is one of the most important spiritual factors of a human being. In addition to physical needs, man is the only creature on this earth to also have his equally important spiritual needs. It is a clear manifestation as to how blessed human beings are in the eyes of God. However, the Chinese people are ruthlessly deprived of this blessing by those in power. In China, freedom is not only a luxury item, but it also is regarded as a dangerous item by several generations of dictators. The suppression of people's longing for freedom is against human nature and against heavenly principles.

Freedom of speech and freedom of the press are basic indicators of a civilized society, and they are also the basic building blocks of freedom, especially social freedom in today's world. For a country without rule by law, freedom of speech and freedom of the press are the only ways to ensure people's rights and safety. Without this freedom, one can imagine how unabashed the dictators are and how helpless the suppressed groups are.

The CCP has always considered the control of media as a key political task. When implementing this task, the plagues for the CCP have never been any conscientious regret, but only problems arising from technological challenges. Recently, especially in the past three or four years, along with people waking up to pursue their rights and freedom, the CCP has become paranoid and has tried to use every method to control the media. It has created shocking incidents suppressing people who practice their rights of freedom on the basis of law.

In the past two years, Mr. Zheng Yichun, Mr. Yang Tianshui, Mr. Guo Qizhen, Mr. Guo Feixiong, Mr. Yang Zhengxue, Mr. (Wang) Lihong and a large number of other renowned Internet writers were illegally detained, and more recently, the CCP illegally arrested Mr. Lu Gengsong and harassed his family, turning a deaf ear to all appeals from home and abroad.

Recently, the CCP's Ministry of Public Security issued an urgent notice to order Internet Data Center (IDC) providers to shut down all forums, blogs, and other online information exchange platforms before the 17th National Congress. If one center is found to have more than seven sites of online platforms, it will be shut down and heavily fined. This is another evil campaign in the CCP's atrocious history to illegally suppress the media.

Freedom of association is regarded as a threat by dictators. In a country without freedom of association, people have no way to create a strong union to defend themselves from the brutal dictatorship. How can a group of people without any connection, as a result of lack of freedom of association, challenge a regime fortified with weapons as its state machinery? The feeling of fragility and frustration of the Chinese people is beyond imagination for those in a democratic country. In China, the whole nation is subdued by a small group of hooligans who segregate and persecute people, one group after another. Even the thought and speech about establishing another political party is regarded as a first-level terrorist event and is illegally suppressed.

III. Furious Suppression of the Rights Defense Movement

In recent years, the CCP has furiously suppressed the Chinese peoples' rights defense movement to the edge of lunacy. A typical example is the case of Chen Guangcheng. When Chen Guangcheng, a blind man and a human rights defender, learned of family planning abuses in Linyi City, Shandong Province, through his own investigation, he made public the CCP's practice of forced abortions and sterilizations. Chen said that a human being should be allowed to travel freely to the country and the world. However, his single voice caused the whole Chinese communist regime to panic. Their reaction was not to stop the continuation of these crimes committed throughout the entire country, but to exert brutal persecution against the upright and brave hero Chen Guangcheng, along with his innocent wife, young son, and elderly mother in her seventies.

The CCP's birth control policy is the largest genocide in the history of mankind. Millions of unborn each year have lost their lives simply because a few dictators made such a policy. (The Chinese regime officially released figures that the birth control policy has helped prevent 400 million births in the last 20 years). Common people who have not obeyed the policy have received extremely harsh punishment. The startling evidence of these excessive crimes by the CCP that blind Chen Guangcheng happened to "witness" and exposed to the public-these are just a small fraction of the long list of the CCP's countless crimes.

In such cruel and inhuman ways, the CCP suppresses and persecutes the populace. Since Chen helped local villagers in their attempt to sue the local authorities in Linyi City for carrying out an illegal policy of forced abortions and sterilizations that reportedly affected thousands of local women, Chen has suffered severe beatings, illegal detentions, false accusations, and his family has also encountered endless harassment and persecution.

The CCP has been criticized as being completely insane and inhumane, which is very true. The CCP has no regard for consequences and commits crimes at all costs. The CCP knows clearly to what an excessive and heinous extent it has committed crimes against humanity, the people, and the country, and that the atrocities are startling. On one hand, they continue to deceive people and commit crimes. On the other hand, the CCP covers its lies and crimes at any cost. The whole Party focuses its effort on covering up its lies and crimes, which is labeled as "political awareness" among all levels of government organizations and CCP committees.

Here I want to remind the ladies and gentlemen of the open letter to Hu Jintao, written by the prominent human rights defender Guo Feixiong's wife, which contains a detailed account of Guo's horrifying experience during a year in prison. Guo is a human rights defender of complete integrity in both personality and conduct. His firm determination and persistence in his human rights work threw the communist regime into panic. In two years, Guo was detained three times, during which he had his first hunger strike for 40 days and second for 59 days. The letter revealed how the communist dictatorial system had blatantly tortured Guo against humanity and civilization:

"According to Guo's attorney, Mo Shaoping, during a prison visit on Sept. 29, 2006, Guo told Mo that he was subjected to around-the-clock interrogation for 13 days. Guo had gone on a hunger strike for 15 days in protest against the torture he had received since his detainment on Sept. 14, on suspicion of 'illegal business activity.'

"During his detention, he was subjected to physical abuse and was handcuffed and shackled to his bed for 42 days. Guo experienced the worst treatment after being transferred to a detention center in Shenyang City, Liaoning Province. There interrogators heavily beat him, shackled his hands behind his back, and sat him on a tiger bench. As a result, overpressure from the torture damaged his shoulder joints. Even more brutally, the police, headed by Tao Zhongge and Yang Naixin, applied a high-voltage electric baton to his genitals. On August 7, 2007, Guo told his attorney that this brutality of viciously and continuously striking his genitalia damaged his health and lead to incurable injury to his body.

"All of these to us are just like nightmares that we cannot get away from. In the past two or three years, the precipitous, cruel reality around us has become the main theme of our lives. How can the world become so absurd, and what on earth will it drive people to? If we hadn't personally experienced the suffering and pain, we could not believe such incomprehensible things happening around us.

"President Hu Jintao, what I have seen is this: Your face looks calm and smiling, shown along the headlines of major newspapers; your manner of statesmanship plays well in domestic and international news; moreover, you are often found to be associated with bright events and warm scenes. But here, at this moment, I have to tell you a story that one cannot bear to listen to, as if it had happened on some other world.

"What is actually going on? Why have all of these things happened? Does the harmonious society that people dream about and long for truly exist? How far is this ideal from my own life? How far away are we from having true human rights? To the disgrace and indignity of all humanity, on Feb. 12, 2007, police forced a confession from Guo after using electric batons to shock his genitals, but they were not quite satisfied. On the night of March 19, officers dragged him to a secret location for his final interrogation and reportedly beat him. They tortured him the same way they would treat a death-row prisoner-with his face covered and hands tied. They beat him fiercely and concluded their abuse by shoving an electric baton into his pants and striking his genitals continuously for about five to six minutes."

I am not able to see your facial expressions as you read these stories that tell how Hu's regime treats people of conscience. Few people in China would be surprised about hearing such things. Unfortunately, this is because our government has subjected too many to this savage behavior for too long. Among both male and female Falun Gong practitioners that I have been in contact with, the majority of them were tortured and humiliated through the assaulting or shocking of their genitals with electric batons.

Since the beginning of this year, there have been large-scale forced abductions of appellants in Beijing, Shanghai, and other cities. The bloody violence occurring in broad daylight is shocking.

IV. Evil Conduct of Stealing Private Property

The Constitution of the Chinese Communist regime also regards the protection of private property as a constitutional principle. However, for over half a century, the regime has conducted enormous and indescribable crimes against property owners. As stated by Jean-Jacques Rousseau, when people feel the need to unite themselves into civil societies, "you will find no other motive than that of assuring the property, life, and liberty of each member by the protection of all."

The United States is fortunate in that legislators came into being after the War of Independence. The disaster of China's situation stems from a militant and imperious regime that emerged during our civil war. This ruling force, whose evil deeds have become almost second nature, has continued to use its power to steal people's property.

Let's look at some examples of how the Chinese government has continued to abuse people's rights through confiscating their property. On Jan. 18, 1956, the Secretary of the CCP Central Committee stipulated a policy known as "Management and Leasing of Properties" which demanded that private property owners turn over their land rights to the government. The government would then take control over the leasing and management of these properties, giving the former owner a symbolic rent fee at a shockingly low rate. This campaign affected 700,000 households, with the government taking over approximately 130 million square meters (80,800 sq miles) of private property.

In Beijing alone, six thousand households were ordered to turn in their property, which amounted to 199,147 ½ homes. It was later revealed that this particular plunder was yet another massive theft of private property after the government's Land Reform and Socialist Reform programs. However, this round of theft was different from the two before in two aspects. First, the constitution was already in place at that time. Second, the government had issued a property ownership certificate for all these properties before the confiscation. Therefore, this very government revealed another side of itself-that of a crooked and scoundrel regime. To this day, the government still occupies these stolen properties and refuses to return them to their rightful owners. Most of these property owners have suffered tremendously under the government's "Management and Leasing of Properties" policy.

Ning Jinglun's family once owned 18 ½ houses in Beijing, which were turned over to the government in 1958. When an official made a mistake calculating the rent, Jinglun, who was 17 at the time, voiced his opinion, and was branded for having "political problems." Jinglun was sentenced to four years and four months of forced labor for his comment, and his mother was held in a detention center for five days. During the Cultural Revolution, his father and elder brother were beaten to death, due to issues arising from the government's "leasing and managing" their confiscated property. Jinglun was later labeled a counter-revolutionary and was driven out of Beijing along with his mother. The property has never been returned to the family.

Ma Lianfu and his sister were also residents of Beijing. Their parents passed away when they were still young. They depended on the rental income from their 16 ½ inherited houses to make a living. After the "Management and Leasing by Government" campaign in 1958, the government only gave them 15.61 yuan (about US$2) per year in rent. At that rate, the brother and sister soon became homeless. Staff from Tiantanghe Farm forcibly took the Ma's into their labor camp. It was not until 1992 that they returned to Beijing, jobless and homeless. These two elderly people have suffered many heartbreaking ordeals. Even today, the government periodically puts the Ma's under house arrest during major festivals and CCP celebration events.

Year after year, hundreds of thousands of victims of the "Management and Leasing of Properties" policy and their heirs continue to struggle with appeals for their unjust situation. On Dec. 15, 2006, the CCP's Construction Administration Department issued a No. [2006]208 document regarding housing, emphasizing that "properties confiscated under the 'Management and Leasing of Properties' policy are explicitly owned by the state. Ownership status must not be changed." The document also instructed local authorities to pay attention to these properties as they are "political" issues and "sensitive" in nature. It reads: "For issues related to these properties, no one is allowed to conduct interviews or report these issues without approval from the Construction Administration Department." Millions of individual's property ownership rights were thus denied by part of an unconstitutional document.

In today's China, those who are in power are indeed worthless in terms of virtue and conscience. Even worse than their suffering a deficiency of such attributes, these individuals gained power precisely because of their lack of virtue and conscience. The rich do not even spare a tiny portion of their wealth to benefit the society. They are infinitely more concerned with maintaining the status quo than in changing it. They've colluded into a political clique despised by all and respected by none. With the excuse that their parent's generation had made indescribable accomplishments to justify today's dictatorship, they grasp and protect their privilege at all costs.

The barrels of guns, police, and prisons are all that account for their "spiritual" wealth. Without virtue or conscience, they stop at no evil; they seem to have no limit when it comes to committing evil. They never concern themselves with how much they're hated or the negative image they project because they can resort to the above-mentioned "spiritual" wealth to further their pursuits. The massive shared hatred against this political clique constitutes yet another "possession" in their life, on top of all their existing evilness.

Over the last 15 years, this political clique has forcibly torn down civilians' private homes to a completely irrational extent. They have forcibly torn down countless homes of the poor—an act no different than stripping the clothes off a person suffering poverty in the cold of winter. Their crimes do not just stop here. For a long time, through terror and duress they have relentlessly fought the appeal and accusation that would otherwise arise from their victims.

Take Shanghai as an example. For over a decade, courageous local citizens went to Beijing, one group after another, to expose the crimes of [various Communist Party officials] Huang Ju, Chen Liangyu, Han Zheng, Liu Yungeng, Wu Zhiming, and others. Several lost their lives in doing so; while many others endured illegal surveillance, home-ransacking, detention, forced-labor, imprisonment, forced submission into mental hospitals, harassment, having their phones tapped, and all kinds of suppression. Recently, 215 courageous Shanghai citizens, including the renowned human rights lawyer Zheng Enchong, wrote an open letter to the CCP's chairman Hu Jintao, enumerating the crimes committed by the political clique in Shanghai that had harmed people's personal rights and property rights to the extreme. In an open letter they wrote: "By any means necessary, they drove 2.8 million Shanghai citizens from the center of the city to the suburbs, and forcibly confiscated farm land and tore down residences originally belonging to one million farmers in the outlying suburbs."

For more than a decade, Shanghai has been the origin and center of forceful land appropriation and coercive residence tear-downs to force people to move. In the past two years alone, the Shanghai city government organized 4,000 cadres from the appeals office to serve as a large-scale force to prevent victims from appealing. The government also organized a gang of ruffians to beat up civilians in order to implement the city's plan to appropriate land. Civilians' bodies were brutalized; sometimes their lives were taken away. All channels to appeal were completely blocked.

Since 2006, citizens beaten to death include Duan Huimin, Du Ronglin, Dai Rong, Chen Xiaoming, and others. Some were detained in mental hospitals where they suffered severe mental torture. In this two-year period, civilians who have had their homes ransacked include Zhou Dahua, Ma Yalian, and 14 other families, including two anonymous families. Mentally sound individuals who were held in mental hospitals include Liu Xinjuan (detained six times), Lu Chunxiang (detained twice), and Hong Lingling (who still remains detained). So far in 2007, three people have been beaten to death. They are Duan Huimin, Chen Xiaoming, and Zhou Dahua.

V. The Environmental Disaster Will Ruin the Future of One Quarter of the World's Population

We do not deny some of the economic success the Chinese Communist Party has "accomplished" in certain forms, but these "accomplishments" are at the cost of destroying human justice, morals, and conscience, as well as the environment. In 2005, the Environmental Bureau Director said, "If our environmental protection measures could not closely follow economic developments, our economic miracle would end."

The economic miracle is turning into real life disasters. The algae growing in Taihu Lake (located in Wuxi City, Jiangsu Province) proves that the CCP does not care if there is water to drink tomorrow, as long as there is GDP to brag about today. The energy consumption for each 10,000 yuan of production in China, is seven times higher than that in Japan, and three times higher than in India. A quarter of the land in China has been turned into desert, at a rate of 1,900 square miles each year. According to a Xinhua News Agency report, 90 percent of the underground water is polluted in most cities. Seventy-five percent of the rivers flowing through the cities are not suitable for drinking, and the fish in them are not suitable for eating. The environmental protection measures are showcase in form, just like the showcase style economy. It is even more hopeless that small rivers and lakes across the whole country are all severely polluted. These small bodies of water are the foundation of the nation's environment, but they are not included in the protection list.

VI. The Problems Farmers Are Facing

The economic development does not benefit the people. Most rural areas are still poor, so poor that they are beyond the imagination of the outside world. Even though there is no more agriculture tax, this tax was merely one of the many reasons for the poverty. Its cancellation did not help reduce the degree of poverty.

The current constitution states that all farm lands belong to the state or the commune, while the commune ownership is totally controlled by the state. Thus the logic is: "The state owns the land, the CCP rules the state, and the CCP is run by the bureaucrats." Therefore, the CCP bureaucrats are the biggest landlords because they own all the land in China. Billions of farmers in China labor all of their lives on these farm fields, but do not own any of it. This is extremely unfair.

Currently in China, there are 120 million city laborers who are rural residents. They are the biggest slave group in human history. They are not treated with dignity. They have to do hard labor in very severe conditions and are paid $1.50 or less per day. Even with such low salaries, payment is often delayed by employers. Although there are more than 100 million farmers laboring in the cities, they are deprived of the right to form unions. Obviously, as individuals they are extremely weak before the authorities, which is the fundamental reason why they are taken advantage of.

After the June 4th Tianamen massacre in 1989, corruption accelerated. The economic reform, lead by corrupt officials, is in every aspect characterized by ignoring the interests of the people. Farmers, city laborers composed of farmers, involuntary early retired workers, and other weak groups constitute the majority, that is, 70 percent of the Chinese population. During the "Medicare Reform," it was precisely these 70 percent of Chinese who were excluded from the system. Expensive medical costs deprived them of the possibility of seeking medical treatment. Hence, tragedies happened in quite a lot of the countryside. Elderly people would commit suicide to put an end to their illnesses.

The "Enterprise Education" [Translator's note: The "Enterprise Education" reform means turning education into a for-profit business] proposed after 1989, also brought out the same problem of severely harming the rights of the people. Even though there was supposed to be nine years of "free" education, there was a lack of state financial support in many regions. High tuition for intermediate and higher education has become a nightmare to the lower classes. The education system monopolized by the state has become more and more corrupt, and education has turned into a money-making machine of the academic bureaucrats.

At the same time, in order to pay children's tuition, the lower class families are squeezed out of every last penny and down to their last drop of energy. Many parents committed suicide as soon as their children were admitted into a college. The government statistics showed that the bureaucrat group used 400 billion yuan of state funds each year on banquets, another 400 billion yuan on touring, and another 400 billion yuan on vehicles that are allegedly public owned, but only the officials have the privilege to use them.

VII. Extremely Unjust Legal System

Today, the corrupt judiciary agencies have gone all out in their anti-justice, anti- rule of law conduct. The Supreme Court, which is by no means a legislative entity, continuously issues judicial documents to disallow citizens the right to safeguard their rights, and to serve the needs of the authorities to plunder the Chinese people.

These documents stipulate that attorneys and judges are not allowed to accept cases regarding the forceful destruction of personal housing, not allowed to accept cases of farmers losing their fields, not allowed to accept cases related to the "Management and Leasing of Properties" policy, not allowed to accept cases for retired military personnel, not allowed to handle early retirees' argument cases, not allowed to process Falun Gong cases.

There is no bottom line in their counteraction to the principles and spirits of the judicatory system. To give typical examples of wrongful executions in Hebei Province and Inner-Mongolia Autonomous Region, such as the wrongly executed Nie Shubin, in order to cover the crime, the judicial system refused to pursue punishment of the real criminal. The law, moral standard, and sense of justice have degenerated to a level lower than that of a common criminal.

VIII. Disasters Have Become a Common Practice, a Part of Daily Life

People suffer disasters on a daily basis. For instance, as reported on Aug. 30, 2007, in Nanfang Zhoumo (Southern Weekends): On July 29, flooding in the Sanmenxia Coal mine in Henan Province trapped 69 miners underground. On Aug. 14, 2007, the Fenghunag Bridge in Hunan Province, which was still under construction, collapsed and killed 64. On Aug. 17, flooding in the Huayuan Coal mine in Xintai City, Shandong Province, trapped 172 miners underground, and more than 30 days later, they still were not rescued. Their chances of survival are very little. On Aug. 19, 2007, Zouping County Aluminum Factory had an explosion where 16 workers died. On Aug. 30, 2007, a small coalmine in Fangshan District, Beijing City, collapsed, and the local government decided to stop all rescue efforts in less than 48 hours.

Shockingly, the local government officials even ordered the victims' coworkers to stop their self-initiated rescue efforts. Mr. Liu Guojun and others were locked up, to prevent them from continuing the rescue, until the two trapped workers miraculously walked out alive after 132 hours. These two survived by struggling with indomitable courage and drinking each other's urine during the entire self-rescue. Many people made sarcastic comments about the inhumane order issued by the local government: "It was a good thing that these two workers did not know the government's 'scientific decision' to disallow anyone to rescue them; otherwise, their escape would be illegal, as judged by the 'scientific decision' of the government."

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen, the CCP regime has deprived me of my rights of freedom of speech and press for more than one year by means of the most primitive methods. As soon as I started to write this, my heart was filled with an upsurge of emotions. I am writing to you based on my firm belief, which is to say: I know that the above crimes truly exist, and have offended the sense of justice and freedom of the whole human race, including yours.

I truly believe that you all share those beliefs, and know that whoever does nothing in front of such truth, has given up human sensibility and responsibility. I truly believe that you all know, as we do, that western governments are sacrificing ethics and values in exchange for political and economic benefits that are right in front of their eyes.

I truly believe that you are all, as I am, longing to work to lift up human principles, change the tyranny, stop the evil, and end the common embarrassment facing the entire human race. I truly believe that you all, as I do, recognize that dictatorship and the inheritance of the dictatorial system generation after generation, is equal to treating all Chinese people as privately owned livestock as well as "inheriting" people as livestock when the leadership changes hands. The reason the dictatorship receives such inheritance is not due to their ability or virtue, but their lack of virtue. If this reality does not change quickly, human rationality will continue to be blemished and offended.

You all must believe, as I do, that to satisfy the evil totalitarian regime's request to host the Olympic Games, is a dark chapter in the history of the Olympics, and puts shame on the whole human race.

My dear ladies and gentlemen, writing this letter is a heavy thing. If these crimes only happened once or several times, I believe each one of you would be as indignant as I am. Yet, in today's China, these inhuman tragedies have become a common situation that is happening all over the country. Many people have become used to it, and they are indifferent.

The reason the CCP can sustain its power, is that by purposely attacking our conscience with violence, and numbing our conscience with lies, it is eroding our virtue on a daily basis, until out of their helpless state, some people start to rely upon the CCP, which in turn evolves into passive support.

Furthermore, it has degenerated a great number of people's basic moral standards, to the extent that this group of people even defends and justifies CCP atrocities. Thus, the regime feels temporarily relieved because its power is apparently secure. Today, the CCP is expanding its strategy of moral corruption to the whole world. If the CCP succeeds in hosting the Olympics, it is equal to the success of its global moral corruption.

My dear ladies and gentlemen, a society has its "immune" mechanisms to avoid huge sins through morals, laws, public opinion, checks and balances, supervision, and the like, because everyone wishes to live in peace, and not in terror. When we witness those crimes against humanity happening all over the country, and those evil deeds challenging people's basic senses happening in the legal system, media, and the environment, we have no choice but to admit to ourselves that our social "immune" mechanism is completely destroyed.

The force destroying the mechanism and keeping it from rebuilding is the Chinese Communist Party. If you are concerned about me, as a lawyer, from the standpoint of the legal system, I must remind you directly that no one more eagerly longs for the justice of the legal system than I myself as a victim, but every day the CCP exists is a day we cannot realize judiciary justice.

Dear ladies and gentlemen, Dr. Martin Luther King said,

"Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere." (Letter From a Birmingham Jail, Martin Luther King, Jr., April 16, 1963)

The CCP's logic on this subject is backwards. For them, "Justice anywhere is a threat to injustice everywhere." Even if justice does not want to combat the evil as an enemy, the evil will attack justice as its enemy because the existence of justice itself blocks the path of evildoers.

Dear ladies and gentlemen, there is both sadness and hope existing in China now. It is sad that officials at different levels have reached a certain harmony in robbing common people's properties; bribery is transmitted from bottom to top; and the higher levels are protecting the lower level's crimes. Chinese society is in a twisted balance, like an ecological system, tolerating mistakes, self adjusting, self accommodating, and self assembling.

This twisted ecological "balance" is the fundamental support for the CCP regime, which explains why a regime that has committed all kinds of evils has not been overthrown yet. No matter what beautiful wishes Hu Jintao and Wen Jiabao may have, they are completely incapable of changing this state as individuals.

The hope lies in the religious groups, be it Falun Gong or Christians, that are rebuilding morals by pursuing their faith. They are changing the destiny of China through their peaceful protest of the CCP's tyranny, and by pursuing their faith, they are becoming the foundation of China's development and stabilization in the future. Any politician wishing to have interaction with China must not ignore this force.

Making changes in China seems so difficult because the CCP owes an unbearable debt-it has killed 80 million Chinese citizens, and is thus less forgivable than even the Nazis. In turn, precisely because the CCP is fully aware of this un-repayable debt, it killed those students who requested democracy on June 4, 1989. On the other hand, changing China is so easy, that is, it can be done through a moral awakening in every person. A lot can be done in this regard.

If you can use your actions, not just words, to support those free media outlets which expose the CCP's crimes, support the efforts to break the CCP's Internet blockade and send the truth to mainland China, and support the organizations who peacefully renounced the CCP to regain self conscience, China will change very soon.

My dear ladies and gentlemen, you fully have the ability to take action now to stop all of the CCP's crimes against humanity. Just as President Reagan said, "If not us, who? And if not now, when? "

Finally, I'd like to quote the words of the 32nd president of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in his State of the Union Address in 1941 as the ending of my letter,

"In the future days, which we seek to make secure, we look forward to a world founded upon four essential human freedoms. The first is freedom of speech and expression-everywhere in the world. The second is freedom of every person to worship God in his own way-everywhere in the world. The third is freedom from want-which, translated into world terms, means economic understandings which will secure to every nation a healthy peacetime life for its inhabitants-everywhere in the world. The fourth is freedom from fear."

Upon finishing this letter, I heard that President Bush had decided to join the Olympics next year. Pardon my manners here, but I'd like to shout out, "Mr. President, What are you doing? Have you looked at how President Reagan handled the 1988 Seoul Olympics?" I want to remind my friends here as well, I hope my friends in the Congress, both the Senate and the House, can establish merit for human civilization, as was done during the 1988 Seoul Olympics.

Jesus said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you!" Those struggling in the CCP prisons, those crying under the CCP's tortures, those roaming around to avoid mistreatment, all of these people need your help. When the CCP welcomes you with salutes, red carpets and champagne, when the skyscrapers and splendid neon lights dazzle your eyes, I hope you will think of those suffering people. May God bless America. May God give each person a sense of justice, responsibility, and firm determination. May the light of freedom shine upon China proper, allowing evil no place to hide, and may the mistreated no longer be in pain.

Respectfully,
Wishing peace and health to all!

Skip,

Sorry about the confusion about when the Governor's response to Idaho County's Disaster Declaration request was mailed. Attached is the Governor's response letter which was mailed to you along with copies of Idaho Fish and Game's Lolo application and Idaho's MOA that was sent to Secretary Salazar. Idaho County should be receiving the entire packet by mail today or tomorrow. Thanks, BB

Skip,
The Governor's response to Idaho County's declaration went out Friday afternoon. It may have been late enough in the day that it may have been delayed until today. I was not here Friday, but Stephen Goodson said he could not find a number to send it by fax. Do you have a fax number to send it to right away? BB

Thank you for replying to Jim's email.
Normally I would never take the papers as gospel, however with NO communication coming out of the Governors Office, the papers are the only information we County mushrooms have to go with these days.
Not that I am going to hold my breath but I need to ask; Is Governor Otter going to respond in any way to Idaho County's Declaration?

Jim,
I knew when I saw how the article was written some of you would take it wrong. The 50 wolves Idaho is asking to take out is in the Lolo only. Idaho has also sent the MOA to the Secretary outlining a hunting season in addition to the 10(j) application in the Lolo region. This article is a somewhat incomplete as there are two documents that were sent to D.C. Idaho is looking to take more than 50 wolves! Please don't take what you read in the papers as gospel. BB

Good Morning Skip,

What happened to the good old days when we had a Senator Skip Brant, Congress Helen C. and a few other legislators that weren't afraid to speak up. Seems like all the politicians want to make every one happy. Dont fix it just give pleasing words to every one and then let it pass.

Dont feel to bad Skip. they wont talk to me and you know I haven't lost a minutes sleep over it.

What I send out is for information on the issues. I do not always agree with the position or statements of the articles.

What is wrong with this article? Idaho asks for 50 wolf kills and Montana asks for 186? It is all a pretty wimpy ask, but why is it that Montana is asking for almost 4 times the wolves than Idaho is? Flipping incredible!
And it looks like Governors Otter is going to just ignore the County's Declaration. Not even a phone call!
I guess it is up to us to do what needs to be done!

Mont., ID seek wolf kills despite fed protection

By MATTHEW BROWN - Associated Press Writer

Published: 09/27/10

federal approval to kill 186 endangered gray wolves in a special "conservation hunt" and neighboring Idaho wants permission to remove up to 50 of the predators that officials say are eating too many elk.

The states' proposals to kill the wolves come despite a court ruling that restored the animals' endangered species status.

In separate applications filed over the last two weeks with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Idaho and Montana said their new plans to kill wolves were permissible under the Endangered Species Act.

Wildlife managers contend the Aug. 5 ruling from U.S. District Judge Donald Molloy did not account for the growing impact of wolves on livestock and big game herds across the Northern Rockies.

Hunters in Idaho and Montana killed about 260 wolves last year during the states' inaugural wolf hunt seasons. An estimated 1,700 of the animals still roam the Northern Rockies - almost six times the region's original recovery goal of 300 wolves.

"We've done an excellent job. We want to manage them as we do any other of our wildlife," said Bonnie Butler, natural resources adviser to Idaho Gov. C. L. "Butch" Otter.

The proposals have drawn criticism from wildlife advocates who accuse the states of making an end-run around the courts.

A federal lawsuit that could derail Idaho's plans already is pending. And environmental groups have promised to challenge Montana's conservation hunt if it gets the nod from the Fish and Wildlife Service.

A spokesman for the federal agency did not immediately return calls seeking comment from The Associated Press.

Montana has asked the agency for a response by early November so it can hold its hunt this fall. Agency officials said they've gotten a tepid reaction so far in conversations with the Fish and Wildlife Service.

"We're not giving up, but we're not overly optimistic," said Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks spokesman Ron Aasheim.

Subject: INS: EB5 - Chamber groups headed to China

Our open borders and no return VISA's aren't enough to fill America with Foreigners - Now those in Government and the Chambers of COMMERCE (COMMUNISM) are traveling at our expense to foreign lands (CHINA) to encourage them to come to America - Buy citizenship by buying out distressed (due to the Feds handling of the economy) businesses.

They're off.

The Coeur d'Alene and Post Falls Chambers of Commerce have recently sent off the first two groups on the joint-chamber trip to China. The other three groups will leave in the next several days.

Coeur d'Alene Chamber CEO Todd Christensen said the trips, which include stays in Beijing, Shanghai and visits to silk and tea factories, are going smoothly so far.

"We haven't heard any fire drill calls," he said.

A group of 80 departed from the Seattle Airport on October 2 to Beijing, and another group of 80 left on Monday.

The next departure dates are for October 9, 11 and 18.

A total of 340 are going, Christensen said. Most are from Kootenai County, and some have brought friends and relatives from out of state.

Although only a small percentage of the travelers are entrepreneurs investigating the global market, Christensen is glad that so many simply wanted to see China to learn about a new culture.

"We see this as an opportunity to travel to a foreign country, have a great tour and trip at a very reasonable price," Christensen said. - Alecia Warren

Dear Jane: Recently, Andi Elliott, Tea Party Patriots Idaho State Coordinator, sent a letter to the Idaho Post Register regarding the Chinese/Idaho relations and she sent me a copy. I asked if I could send it to my list and after a week, she gave her approval saying, "The Post Register says it knows nothing of this and so, I assume, is researching this but I haven't heard anything yet about whether it will publish my op ed NOR have I had a response from Gov Otter's office. Go ahead and send it out to your friends...hope it will do some good."

Andi Elliott's letter to the Idaho Post Register

Could this be treason? Idaho , China is coming to town. The Communists are coming and not by stealth but by open invitation from our Governor whom I have strongly supported...until now. I was personally able to thank Governor Otter for standing strong against the federal government regarding the unconstitutional health care law. Using his own example, I now am taking a strong stance against "the Communist-Connection" that he has invited to Idaho .

Our state officials during their taxpayer funded 2010 June trip, have "courted" and "won the hand" of the Chi Coms...and we won what? So, what does Idaho get from this deal? We get a 10,000-30,000 acre self-sustaining community of Communist who will be hiring "their own"...and yes, I'm sure there will be some crumbs for Idahoans. Will they be flying the Red China flag? I wonder.

While I realize that money is the "raison d'être", let's set financial considerations aside for the moment. What do you think will be the unintended consequences (or perhaps "intended") to the culture and traditions of our Idaho . This very day, China 's president is conferring with Obama about a "post-America" world. They are coming and they won't be leaving.

In fact, Governor Otter has arranged "fast track" citizenship for them. Are we selling our much coveted "American citizenship" for financial gain...you know, the one that people are willing to die for while trying to come to America for the freedoms that only Americans enjoy? Is American citizenship being used as a pawn much as the pull-string game at a carnival to which a Chinese-made toy is attached? It certainly cheapens the coveted "prize", doesn't it?

Come on folks...remember about the Communist Chinese...where throughout history people have been rounded up and then disappear, or where educators have been sent to the fields to labor, or where tanks run over dissenters, where people routinely starve to death, where forced abortions occur...you know...that China. This is the China that steals our secrets and pirates our intellectual property. The China that makes over 16,000 attempts each year to hack into our security systems. The China whose environmental record is a disgrace even to the most indifferent of environmentalists. The China which literally stuffs crates with small dogs then cruelly "skins them alive". You know... Wal-Mart China .

So, tell me again why we are allowing this? Oh, that's right...it's the money "stupid".

America is in the crosshairs of Red China and they are out maneuvering us by quantum leaps condoned by our pro-Communist administration. This is about the best shot that China has ever had to make their long-awaited goal come to fruition. Tell me, why would you invite a stated enemy into your home? Could this be treason?

Chinese Pipeline of Investors

This information is being sent out to alert Americans as to what is happening in Idaho and throughout this country that involves the public officials soliciting the Communist Chinese to buy American citizenship via the EB-5 visas.

In June of 2010 Idaho Gov. Butch Otter and a delegation including local businesses went on a trade mission to China. The businesses were looking for Chinese that would purchase their goods that could be imported into China, while Gov. Otter invited the Communist Chinese to bring their money and move to Idaho to invest in our economy thru the EB-5 visas.

"The value of U.S. residency, and being put on the fast track to citizenship, is an incredible tool to help us attract foreign investment in our Idaho businesses
<http://e5visa.com/tag/idaho>

The investments would be thru the EB-5 foreign investor visas, with $1,000,000 investment going to start a new business and create 10 jobs or with $500,000 they could buy a distressed business and create 10 jobs or invest $500,000 into an EB-5 Regional Center which is made-up of private businesses. The investor is given a green card and in 5 years can get U.S. citizenship. The 10 new jobs created do not have to go to Americans.

The EB-5 Regional Centers are all over the U.S. If the investor chooses to invest in a center they can move and live anywhere they want. Many Communist Chinese are choosing the centers because they do not have to manage a business and can still get U.S. citizenship.

FOREIGN TRADE ZONES ---

Any business that wants to export goods can apply for a "Foreign Trade Zone" status thru the U.S. Department of Commerce. Once a FTZ, they fall under federal management and the Customs and Border Patrol secure the premises. State and local laws still apply in the FTZ but local law enforcement must be called by the CBP to enter the zone. The local officials can request entry but it's a jurisdictional issue depending upon the reason for the request. The U.S. Customs randomly inspect the imports and exports of goods. Foreign companies can also move into these zones and hire workers that have foreign visas.

There is a big push to get American businesses to export their goods. Then they will want "foreign trade zone" status. Not that we really manufacture much anymore because we exported entire industries, but the idea of turning a country's economy into be exporting nation is the same kind structural adjustment program that was imposed on countries in South and Central America, the Caribbean and perhaps other countries as well. It provides caviar for a few and starves the many.

Alliance Texas is an example of a fully master planned community designed around an intermodal commerce zone / Foreign Trade Zone. It was the first such community and we don't know if there are any more of them but we suspect there might be.

<http://www.alliancetexas.com/Developments.aspx>

Here is a video about the Alliance development. This link was found on the Alliance website:

<http://www.elocallink.tv/vp6/spon-vp6l.php?curloc=/clients3/tx/fortworth/main.php&qstring=&sponid=1947&type=wh&flver=10&brver=6>

There is ALSO a big push to get "Foreign Direct Investment" into this country. That is the objective of Butch Otter's Project 60. <http://www.project60.idaho.gov>

The foreign owned businesses that move to the U.S. can also apply for FTZ status and they can hire H1-B's and other foreign workers on visas.

Idaho now has 2 new FOREIGN TRADE ZONES. One in Boundary County up north with a Chinese company, Hoku Materials, and one in Pocatello, with Hoku Materials the same Chinese company. There has been much concern over the Chinese moving into the U.S. (buying homes, businesses, land and natural resources. You will find these article at the bottom of this e-mail.)

Foreign Trade Zones are clearly named. Other types of zones - in particular intermodal commerce zones, hubzones, enterprise zones, work-based development zones, economic development zones are more difficult because each state and each agency of government can give them different names to refer to the same thing. In addition, you can have different layers of zoning within the same zone. For example, you can have an intermodal commerce zone that is also an EB-5 Regional Zone, that is also a work-based learning zone that is also a subzone attached (logically) to a Foreign Trade Zone. That's what it appears to be the game plan for "The CORE" in Meridian, Idaho which is just a couple of miles down the road (or maybe across the road depending on the FTZ boundaries at the Boise Airport) from the Boise Airport where the FTZ will be located.

"The CORE"

<http://thecoreidaho.com/index.php>

This is Idaho Law, Title 70, Chapter 22 on Intermodal Commerce Zones which came about as a result of the Transportation Dept. ISTEA Legislation of 1991 which initiated the superhighway corridor project with superhighway being defined as high tech highways.

<http://legislature.idaho.gov/idstat/Title70/T70CH22.htm>

And when you get through all of that, and you know that this is only part of the story - then you'll understand why I called these zones, "Trojan Triangles".

"China Demands Half of joint Ventures" --- U.S. Companies forced to accept 50 - 50 agreements

---China leases oil rights in Texas---

Last October, China announced the state-owned Chinese energy giant CNOOC is buying a multi-million dollar stake in 600,000 acres of South Texas oil and gas fields.

Reporting the story, Monica Hatcher of the Houston Chronicle suggested China was "testing the political waters for further energy expansion into U.S. energy reserves."

That China is buying U.S. oil and natural gas rights in the continental United States will strike millions of Americans as paradoxical, especially since the U.S. continues to be a net importer of approximately 60 percent of the oil consumed in the United States.

The Houston Chronicle reported China paid $2.2 billion for a one-third stake in Chesapeake Energy assets, with CNOCC laying a claim to a share of the energy resources in South Texas that have the potential to produce up to half a million barrels of oil per day.

The Houston Chronicle reported that as part of this deal, CNOCC agreed to pay approximately $1.1 billion for a share of Chesapeake's assets in the Eagle Ford, described as a broad oil and gas formation that runs from the southwest of San Antonio to the Mexican border.

The Houston Chronicle also reported that the deal with China could create as many as 20,000 jobs in the United States, as well as provide the capital Chesapeake needs to increase its rig count in South Texas from 10 rigs to 42 rigs by the end of 2012.

Five years ago, the Bush administration blocked China on grounds of national security concerns from a $18.4 billion deal in which China planned to purchase California-based Unocal Corp.

Today, China has the cash, U.S. corporations need the business and the Obama administration has no plans to reverse the debtor relationship in which China has become one of the U.S. government's needed lenders.

In case you missed this.

Communist Chinese GOVERNMENT owned company SINOMACH wants to partner with Idaho's energy firms. Lt. Gov Brad Little thinks this is a great match.

Sinomach:

They talked to Idaho Power Co. and Rocky Mountain Power and the Mountain States Transmission Project about building the major transmission lines the two utilities have planned. They also talked with several other Idaho energy and manufacturing companies about projects ranging from coal-gasification, nuclear power to turning biogas into power.

The visit underscores the changing face of energy development in Idaho, as well as the interest Chinese companies have in both business and investment here.

"Your expertise, our expertise and your resources and our resources match up," said Idaho Lieutenant Gov. Brad Little.

Project 60: China Buying Idaho?

Posted on June 1, 2011 by admin

The following excerpts are from an article in the Boise (Idaho) Examiner and will not make it to the mainstream media. The article details how Idaho's Governor, Butch Otter, has teamed up with the Obama agenda of globalization. This article is most likely just a first peek at what's in our future. You may as well kiss the good 'ole' USA good bye. Just my opinion....William McCullough

Idaho To Be First Chinese State

Bill Turner – Boise Examiner, May 31, 2011

Governor Butch Otter, in league with....(Barack) Obama, has hatched a plan to make Idaho the first Chinese owned state in America. Otter and company have named this Project 60. Sounds innocent enough, until you realize that Otter and his minions are afraid to call it what it is, globalization of America and surrender of sovereignty. If it were called that someone may want to charge Otter with sedition. Under....Obama it has become increasingly difficult to do business in America, unless you are from a foreign nation. Idaho, under the stewardship of Governor Butch Otter, has opened the door for a Chinese invasion wherein the sovereignty of Idaho and America will be sodomized by all parties involved.

Project 60 takes advantage of a federal program that grants permanent residency to foreign nationals, in this case, Chinese. This program comes with special tax exemptions to the foreign firms moving here. American companies do not get the tax exemptions; So much for the Constitution and equal protection. Idaho is struggling financially and it is widely known that America is broke, so why tax breaks for the Chinese?

China wants to limit its exposure to America's debt. China needs to maintain its trade deficits, so it does not collapse like a house of cards. In order to accomplish this, China must unload currency and excess dollars. Buying Idaho is a good way to accomplish this. But, do not worry, China is looking at buying Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania as well. China will not allow its currency to become stronger, so it must eliminate some of America's IOU's. What better way to do this than buy America?

Top Idaho officials have been traveling to China and entertaining the Chinese here, in order to help facilitate this. Idaho is a resource rich state and the Chinese know it, as does Obama, who keeps snatching Idaho land. Otter, Obama and the attack on business in America paves the way for China to own us. A Chinese firm is building a fertilizer plant in American Falls Idaho. Ironical. China has bought fifty square miles of land south of Boise, thirty thousand acres of Idaho gone to foreign nationals. Governor Otter says this will help reinvigorate our American industrial base. Just how this will do it, since the plants will be staffed with foreign nationals is a question that remains unanswered.
